

Summary

This page is used to look up products in bulk. Typically, users are either looking to locate problematic products to support content management, or to check availability and prices.

A combination of search and filters are used to refine the product list.

Product Search

In addition to filtering your product catalogue by Category, Brand, Supplier, Brand or Collection, you can use the search function.

The search on the Product Lookup screen works differently to other search methods, because it is also enabled to search for variants. You can use this to search for a product and an option simultaneously; this can be combined with filters to give specific results.

Products with Stock

To view stocked products, simply filter to a specific Store, or apply a filter for Products which have Stock.

This is in line with the Stock Definitions.

Check Prices

Prices can be viewed from this screen.

If a product has multiple variants, these prices will be listed against each one.
